This webinar will provide families with strategies for understanding the role of occupational therapy in supporting people living with changes in memory and thinking. Marie will offer tips to enhance cognitive function during daily tasks and share strategies to better understand memory aides and environmental considerations.

Marie Dagger, MS, OTR/L

Marie Dagger is a community-based occupational therapist with the Aging Transitions team at the Orange County Department on Aging (OCDoA).

She currently works with older adults and caregivers of all needs and abilities to ensure safe and meaningful living in both home and community spaces.
