As dementia progresses, care needs evolve and change. In this conversation, we will talk about the difference between palliative care and hospice, and how it could be helpful. We'll also talk about advance care planning and its importance for both the care receiver AND the care provider.

Betsy Barton, MPH, CT

Betsy Barton is the Director of Special Projects in the Community Engagement Department at Transitions LifeCare. She started her learning journey about dementia when she was five years old and her father was diagnosed with early dementia.
